About

Tasha's folks have a hotel in the Drakensberg mountains called Cleopatra Mountain Farmhouse. They had asked John and Tasha to produce a wine specifically for the hotel and restaurant. After putting their heads together for months trying to come up with a name, Tasha's mother said 'why don't we incorporate the copper pot in our logo,' thus was born 'Copper Pot' Pinot Noir. The 2023 bottling continues where the past four vintages left off with the fruit coming from a couple of vineyards in the Overberg & Hemel-en-Aarde appellations. It was an immaculate vintage for early-ripening varieties with warm dry weather and good ripeness levels. There was serious flooding in these regions in the fall/winter, but luckily, they had harvested most of their Pinot Noir before the rain really came down.

The fruit was handpicked and fermented naturally in small, open-top fermenters. Depending on the block and the ripeness of the fruit, John used somewhere between 0-100% whole-clusters (average 30%), bringing a natural structure and savoriness to the wine. Extraction is kept very gentle using a combination of light pumpovers and hand plunging. After 24-28 days on skins, the tanks were pressed to old French barriques where they rest for nine months. The wine is bottled unfiltered, and with just a light filtration and small dose of sulfur.

Tasting Note

This wine displays a perfumed nose, with dried cranberries and pomegranate, along with underlying citrus and fine herbal tones.
