"Hand-picked, open-fermented, 8 days on skins, matured mainly in used oak for 18 months. The colour isn't as deep as its Lioness sibling; yet to come together as convincingly, but will improve."

"Subtle notes of mint do appear, but they're quickly subsumed under waves of gorgeous blackberry fruit. And yet that fruit isn't without its own nuance, offering suggestions of blueberries, mulberries and blackcurrants and bolstered by hints of vanilla and cedar. Medium to full-bodied, it's supple and creamy in texture, with a long, dusty finish." - Joe Czerwinski

"Lurid ruby. Expressive dark berry preserve and floral scents are complemented by suggestions of cracked pepper and licorice. In a rich yet juicy, energetic style, this wine offers appealingly sweet black raspberry, blueberry and cherry flavors that spread out steadily through the back half. Finishes long and spicy, with gently astringent tannins and repeating floral notes."
