Brut

"Disgorged with 10 gams per liter dosage in 2017 after 70 months on the lees, the 2010 Brut Reserve opens in the glass with aromas of green apple, warm bread, iodine, citrus oil and brioche. Medium to full-bodied, racy and incisive, it's chalky and nicely concentrated, built around a bright spine of acidity. Deep and incipiently complex. this should reward additional aaina."

Brut

"Very tender notes of baked apple and faint hints of creamy autolysis rise from the glass. The palate is tart and brisk, reminiscent of white currant and pale lemon. Slenderness is enlivened by the dosage which lends overtones of elderflower. Fine bubbles add welcome creaminess and leave you thoroughly refreshed."
