“PATATSFONTEIN”Steen

"Characterful, old-oaked chenin from a single vineyard, wholebunch & naturally fermented, like all these. Stony, peach-apricot complexity on 2019. Palate rich & intense; firm acid gives refinement & an element of youthful severity. A few years will bring more sheer delight."

"I'm not responsible for it," says Reenen Borman of this delicious Chenin Blanc from the slate soils of Montagu, "it makes itself." Pithy and chiselled, with notes of hay and white flowers, subtle nutmeg spice and a racy, citrus and green apple core. Wonderfully stony and precise. 2021-26."

"The Patatsfontein Chenin Blanc as made by rising star Reenen Borman from Montagu grapes can be a little closed early on its life but the 2019 is already quite expressive without sacrificing any trademark purity or focus.

The aromatics are extremely complex with top notes of potpourri and talcum powder before
